

A close-up photograph of a pink hydrangea flower. The image shows several large, overlapping pink petals with visible veins. In the center, there is a cluster of small, green, unopened buds. The background is softly blurred, showing more of the same flowers. The text is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif font.

2nd Kings 04:14 And he said, What then is to be done for her? And Gehazi answered, Verily she hath no child, and her husband is old.