

A photograph of a rocky coastline. In the foreground, there is a pile of dark, irregularly shaped stones and pebbles. Behind them, several larger, light-colored boulders are scattered across the ground. The water of a body of water is visible in the background, showing small white-capped waves crashing against the rocks. The overall scene is natural and rugged.

Word Study for --- JAASIEL