

Proverbs 20:25 It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to make inquiry.

A cluster of vibrant red chrysanthemum flowers is the central focus, growing in a garden bed. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing bright red petals and others with yellow centers. They are surrounded by dark brown mulch and soil, with some green leaves visible at the base of the plants. The background is filled with the texture of the mulch and soil, creating a natural, earthy setting.
