

A close-up photograph of a bright pink rose. The petals are layered and show some signs of aging or damage, with some edges appearing slightly torn. Numerous small, clear water droplets are scattered across the surface of the petals, catching the light. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting foliage.

Leviticus 23:30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.
