

A close-up photograph of a rose with yellow and pink petals, set against a background of dark green leaves. The rose is the central focus, with its petals showing a gradient from pale yellow to soft pink. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals.

Psalms 126:02 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The LORD hath done great things for them.
