

Proverbs 11:11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

A close-up photograph of a bouquet of carnations. The flowers are primarily white with vibrant pink or magenta variegated patterns on their petals. They are densely packed together, with some flowers in sharp focus in the foreground and others blurred in the background. The background is a dark, out-of-focus green, suggesting foliage.
