Song of Solomon 08:11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baalhamon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was
to bring a thousand pieces of silver.
