

Ezekiel 10:02 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

A dried, dark red leaf or branch lies horizontally across the middle of the image. It has a textured, almost fibrous appearance with some lighter, yellowish-brown areas where it has dried or broken apart. The background is a grey, granular surface, possibly concrete or sand, with some subtle variations in tone and texture.