

A close-up photograph of a single, vibrant red rose in full bloom. The rose is the central focus, with its many petals showing a rich, slightly darker red at the edges and a lighter, almost pinkish-red towards the center. The petals are layered and ruffled, creating a textured appearance. Surrounding the rose are several dark green leaves with serrated edges, some showing signs of aging or damage. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the rose. Overlaid on the image is white text in a serif font, arranged in seven lines.

Hosea 02:05 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink.
