

A close-up photograph of a flower with yellow and red petals. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font. The background is a soft-focus view of the flower's intricate petal structures.

Deutronomy 32:05 They have corrupted themselves, their spot is not the spot of his children: they are a perverse and crooked generation.