

5176. Strong's Dictionary Study

5176. trogo {tro'-go}; probably strengthened from a collateral form of the base of 5134 and 5147 through the idea of corrosion or wear; or perhaps rather of a base of 5167 and 5149 through the idea of a crunching sound; to gnaw or chew, i.e. (generally) to eat: --eat. [q]
