

A photograph of a stone wall and a pile of rocks with purple flowers. The wall is constructed from large, rectangular, reddish-brown stone blocks. To the left of the wall is a pile of dark, jagged rocks, some of which are covered in small purple flowers. The background is a blurred green, suggesting a garden or park setting.

Acts 20:30 Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.