

A photograph of a waterfall in a garden. Water is cascading over several large, dark, textured rocks. The water falls into a small pool at the bottom left. To the right, there is a stone wall made of light-colored, rectangular stones. To the left, there are green plants, including a pine branch and some purple and red flowers. The background shows a brick wall and some mulch.

Ephesians 05:21 Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.