

A scenic view of a river flowing through a mountainous landscape. The river is dark blue and reflects the sky. In the foreground, a large, light-colored millstone is visible in the water. The background shows steep, rocky mountains under a clear sky.

Mat 18:06 But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and [that] he were drowned in the depth of the sea.
