

A person is walking on a beach at sunset. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm glow over the scene. Large, dark rocks are scattered in the foreground, some partially submerged in the shallow water. The person is walking away from the viewer towards the ocean. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

1Ti 04:06 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.
