

Heb 09:07 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people: