

A photograph of a beach scene featuring a large pile of driftwood and sticks scattered across a sandy and pebbly shore. The driftwood is in various shades of brown and tan, some appearing bleached white. The pebbles are small and dark, contrasting with the light-colored sand. The overall scene is natural and serene.

Psalm 94:19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul.