

A photograph of a waterfall cascading over dark, mossy rocks. The water is captured in a long-exposure style, creating a soft, blurred effect. The text is overlaid in a large, white, serif font, centered horizontally and vertically.

Ecclesiastics 05:11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?