

A large, dark, mossy rock is the central focus, covered in a thick layer of vibrant red and orange autumn leaves. The leaves are scattered across the rock's surface, some lying flat and others slightly curled. The rock is situated in a stream, with water flowing around its base and creating a soft, white foam. The background is a blurred forest scene with more trees and foliage, suggesting a serene, natural setting. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and beautiful, capturing the essence of autumn.

Jeremiah 11:18 And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it , and I know it : then thou showedst me their doings.