

A close-up photograph of a pine tree branch. The image shows several clusters of bright green, needle-like leaves radiating from a central point on a brown, textured branch. The background is a soft-focus view of more pine needles and branches, creating a dense, green texture.

Ezekiel 48:35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures : and the name of the city from that day shall be , The LORD is there.