

A close-up photograph of a cluster of flowers, likely petunias, in shades of purple and white. The flowers have a ruffled, trumpet-like shape. The background is filled with green leaves and stems, some of which are slightly out of focus. The lighting is bright, highlighting the textures of the petals and the vibrant colors.

Proverbs 26:03 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.