

A photograph of a garden scene. In the foreground, there is a dense cluster of pink flowers with orange-brown centers, likely Echinacea, growing behind a silver wire fence. The background is filled with lush green foliage, including various leafy plants and tall grasses. The overall scene is bright and vibrant, suggesting a sunny day in a well-maintained garden.

2nd Peter 03:07 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.
