

A long, narrow, dark rock formation protrudes from the water in a river or stream. The water is dark and flows over the rock, creating a small waterfall effect. The background is a blurred view of the water and the surrounding environment.

Genesis 28:10 And Jacob went out from Beersheba, and went toward Haran.