

Genesis 07:06 And Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

A serene landscape featuring a body of water in the foreground that reflects the sky and surrounding greenery. The water is calm, creating a clear mirror image of the trees and foliage on the opposite bank. The sky is a pale, clear blue, and the vegetation is lush and green, with some taller trees visible in the background. The overall scene is peaceful and natural.
