

A close-up photograph of a dense field of bright pink and magenta flowers, likely a variety of daisy or aster. The flowers have multiple layers of thin, pointed petals and dark brown centers. The background is filled with green leaves and stems, creating a lush, natural setting. The lighting is soft, highlighting the vibrant colors of the blooms.

Psalm 119:49 ZAIN. Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to hope.