

Job 09:25 Now my days are swifter
than a post: they flee away, they see no good.

A close-up photograph of a bird's wing, showing several layers of feathers. The central feathers are a vibrant green, while the tips of the outer feathers are a mix of white and yellowish-brown. The background is dark and out of focus.