

Ezekiel 40:15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance unto the face of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.

A close-up photograph of a light purple hibiscus flower with a dark red center and yellow stamens, set against a dark background. The flower is the central focus, with its petals showing delicate veining and a soft, ruffled texture. The center is a vibrant red, and the stamens are bright yellow, creating a striking contrast. The background is dark and out of focus, making the flower stand out prominently.
