

Genesis 48:21 And Israel said unto Joseph, Behold, I die: but God shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers.

A photograph of several purple iris flowers in bloom, positioned in front of a light-colored house with vertical siding. The flowers are the central focus, with their green leaves and stems visible. The background shows a portion of the house and some greenery, including a small tree or bush to the right. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.