

Joel 01:12 The vine is dried up, and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field, are withered:
because joy is withered away from the sons of men.

A large tree with dense, golden-yellow autumn foliage occupies the lower half of the image. The leaves are small and maple-like. The background is a clear, vibrant blue sky.
