

A close-up photograph of a large quantity of chili peppers. The peppers are in various stages of ripeness, with many being bright red and some still yellow or orange. They are interspersed with dark green, serrated leaves. The background is a dense, textured field of these peppers and leaves, creating a vibrant and somewhat chaotic pattern of colors.

Rom 07:24 O wretched man that I am!
who shall deliver me from the body of this death?
