

A close-up, top-down view of a field of golden wheat. The stalks are densely packed and have a warm, yellowish-gold hue. The texture is intricate, showing the individual grains and the fine hairs on the awns. The lighting is bright, creating a sense of depth and highlighting the natural beauty of the crop.

Proverbs 27:14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.