

A photograph of a dirt road with a horse and a donkey walking away, with a green field and a church spire in the background.

Mat 12:25 And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: