

A narrow path through a dense forest of tall, thin trees, leading towards a bright opening in the distance. The path is covered in fallen leaves and branches, and the trees are closely packed on both sides, creating a tunnel-like effect. The lighting is dramatic, with the path leading towards a bright, overexposed area at the end, suggesting a path of light or a clearing.

Luk 21:20 And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof
is nigh.
