

A scenic view of a coastline. In the foreground, there is a grassy hillside with patches of brown earth. The middle ground shows a sandy beach curving along the shore, with waves breaking onto it. The water is a deep blue, and several large, reddish-brown rock formations are visible in the sea. The sky is bright blue with scattered white clouds.

Joh 13:07 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.
