

Genesis 14:03 All these were joined together in the vale of Siddim,
which is the salt sea.

A landscape photograph showing a waterfall in the background, with mist rising from the base. In the foreground, dark evergreen branches frame the scene, partially obscuring the view of the waterfall. The overall atmosphere is dramatic and serene.