

Genesis 22:04 Then on the third
day Abraham lifted up his eyes,
and saw the place afar off.

A close-up photograph of a field of yellow pansies. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some in sharp focus and others blurred in the background. The centers of the flowers are dark, creating a striking contrast with the bright yellow petals. The overall lighting is soft and natural, highlighting the texture of the petals.