

Genesis 29:11 And Jacob kissed Rachel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.

A photograph of a garden scene. In the foreground, there are several plants with green leaves and small white flowers, some with yellow centers. To the left, there are larger, bright yellow flowers. The background is a black mesh covering, likely used for pest control or shade, with some red flowers visible through it. The text is overlaid in white, serif font.
