

Exodus 12:28 And the children of Israel went away, and did as the
LORD had commmanded Moses and
Aaron, so did they.

A scenic view of a coastline with waves crashing onto a dark sandy beach, viewed from a high vantage point on a grassy cliffside. The sky is clear and blue, and the water is a deep, dark blue. The beach is dark and rocky, with waves breaking in white foam. The cliffside in the foreground is covered in dry, brownish grass and some small green plants. In the distance, there are more hills and a line of trees.
