

A close-up, slightly blurred photograph of a waterfall. The water is white and frothy as it falls over dark, wet rocks. The background is a deep green, mossy surface. The text is overlaid in white, bold, serif font.

Exodus 21:13 And if a man lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee.