

A raised garden bed made of wooden planks, filled with soil. The bed is densely packed with green onions, many of which have small, round, light-colored bulbs. In the bottom right corner, there are several bright orange marigold flowers. A black irrigation pipe runs diagonally across the bed, and a grey pop-up sprinkler head is visible on the right side. The garden bed is surrounded by a layer of light-colored gravel. The background shows more green foliage and a wooden fence.
