

1st Chronicles 23:02 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel, with the priests and the Levites.

A photograph of a sandy beach with two pieces of weathered driftwood. One is a long, straight log lying horizontally across the middle ground. The other is a gnarled, broken piece of wood standing upright in the foreground. A small green plant is growing in the sand near the base of the upright piece of wood. The background shows the vast expanse of the beach under bright, natural light.
