A close-up photograph of a bouquet of ranunculus flowers. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, showing a variety of colors including bright pink, deep magenta, vibrant yellow, and fiery orange. Some flowers are fully open, displaying their characteristic ruffled petals, while others are still in bud form, showing a green, pointed shape. The background is a soft, out-of-focus grey, which makes the colors of the flowers stand out. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.
