

A close-up photograph of a waterfall. Water is cascading over dark, wet, and mossy rocks. The water is white and foamy as it falls, creating a dynamic and powerful scene. The background is dark, making the white foam stand out.

Job 13:28 And he, as a rotten thing, consumeth, as a garment that is moth eaten.