

A close-up photograph of a tomato plant. In the foreground, there are two tomatoes: one is a vibrant orange-red color, and the other is a bright green color. Several large, green, serrated leaves are visible, some showing signs of insect damage with small holes. The background is a soft-focus green, suggesting more foliage.

Job 21:27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.