

A close-up photograph of a bouquet of flowers. The central focus is a large, bright yellow rose. To its right and slightly behind is a large, dark purple hydrangea flower. In the foreground, there are several purple morning glory flowers with their characteristic trumpet shape. The background is filled with more flowers, including some yellow ones and a hint of a red flower. The overall scene is lush and colorful, with green leaves interspersed among the blooms.

Job 33:09 I am clean without transgression, I am innocent;
neither is there iniquity in me.
