

Job 35:16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain; he multiplieth words without knowledge.

A dirt path winds through a dry, hilly landscape. The path is reddish-brown and leads uphill. The terrain is covered with sparse vegetation, including dry grasses and small green bushes. Several trees are scattered across the scene, some with green leaves and others with bare branches. The sky is clear and blue.