

Proverbs 26:17 He that passeth by,
and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.

A monarch butterfly with vibrant orange wings and black markings is perched on a green plant with large, serrated leaves. The background is a dark, textured black mesh, which makes the butterfly and the green foliage stand out prominently. The text is overlaid in white, bold, serif font.
