

A scenic waterfall cascading over dark, mossy rocks. The water flows from the top right, down several tiers of large, dark grey rocks, creating white foam and splashing. The rocks are wet and glistening with water. In the background, there are green trees and a clear blue sky. The overall scene is bright and natural.

Leviticus 13:47 The garment also that the plague of leprosy is in,
whether it be a woollen garment,
or a linen garment;