

The background of the image is a photograph of an ancient Egyptian stone wall. The wall is covered in hieroglyphs, including several large, stylized figures of deities or royalty wearing crowns and holding staffs. The stone is a warm, reddish-brown color and shows signs of weathering and cracking. In the foreground, there is a pile of broken, angular stones of various sizes, some of which are dark brown and others are lighter, suggesting a site of excavation or a natural rock formation.

Leviticus 27:19 And if he that sanctified the field will in any wise redeem it, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be assured to him.
