

A close-up photograph of a person's hands holding a black fishing net. A large, colorful fish, possibly a snapper, is visible inside the net. The background is a blurred green and brown, suggesting an outdoor setting. The text is overlaid in white, bold, serif font.

Ecclesiastics 05:16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?